Chipi,

Hi Sweatheart! You're one person that has alot going for yourself. I wish what ever you want out of life, you get. Because you deserve the "Best." Stay the same as you are. I hope we always stay close. So far this summer we've been partying pretty heavily, I mean just you being there helps me get in a partiful mood, among other people. I could dig on as C.R. Laur M.W. L.W having more good times! OH YEAH! K.A But nature will take its course. Whatever will be, will be. "Right Brother" Good luck in the future Babe. Stay Cool {And Remember "Wilson"}

We are children, expressions of love.

We are expressers, expressers of ourselves.

We have compiled a session of each other

All of us born as expressions, this being a session of expression giving birth to a drama,

Let your mind wander through our Expression Session,

That you now grasp.

ON CREATIVITY

The man who follows the crowd, will usually go no further than the crowd. The man who walks alone is likely to find himself in places no one has ever been before.

Creativity in living is not without its attendant difficulties, for peculiarity breeds contempt. And the unfortunate thing about being ahead of your time is that when people finally realize you were right, they'll say it was obvious all along.

You have two choices in life: you can dissolve into the mainstream, or you can be distinct. To be distinct, you must be different. To be different you must strive to be what no one else but can be . . .

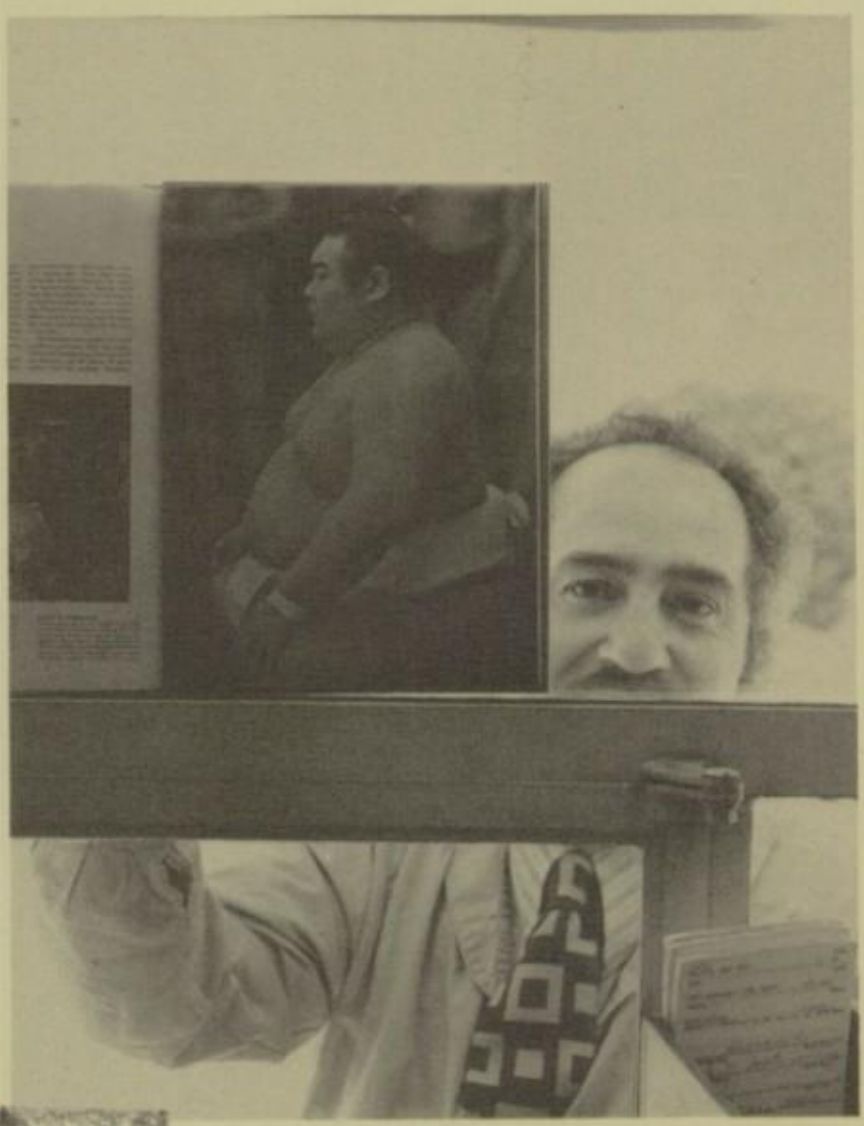
Mr. Stein has brought recognition to our school and our students year after year with art shows. His students have won awards out of all proportion to our school size, in outside art shows, from Inglewood to Los Angeles County Fair - Club shows, exhibits at Bullocks and competition for scholarships.

Students under his direction design covers for programs, retirement teas, special occasions - have launched themselves on money-making projects growing out of techniques learned in arts and crafts.

His students keep the bulletin board in the office of the Principal colorfully decorated with beautiful results of the assignment currently being executed. His classes are overflowing and students have to be turned away at enrollment time as they're more desirous of taking his classes than there is space to accomodate them. His time for students does not end with school day but goes on with Art Club outings - evenings - weekends - AND there is a sad, sway-backed donkey who runs the other way when Donkey Basketball time rolls around and a certain oversize hat atop a Mexican sarape comes ambling his way. Mr. Stein has led the students of the Troubadour staff to far and reaching spaces of the mind in trying to create a new, exciting, and mind-blowing book that will stun the students and the community. His enthusiasm with the students of Lennox High should earn him the recognition that he so dearly deserves.



MR. STEIN * WE THE STUDENTS AND FACULTY OF LENNOX HIGH SALUTE YOU AND YOUR WORK!

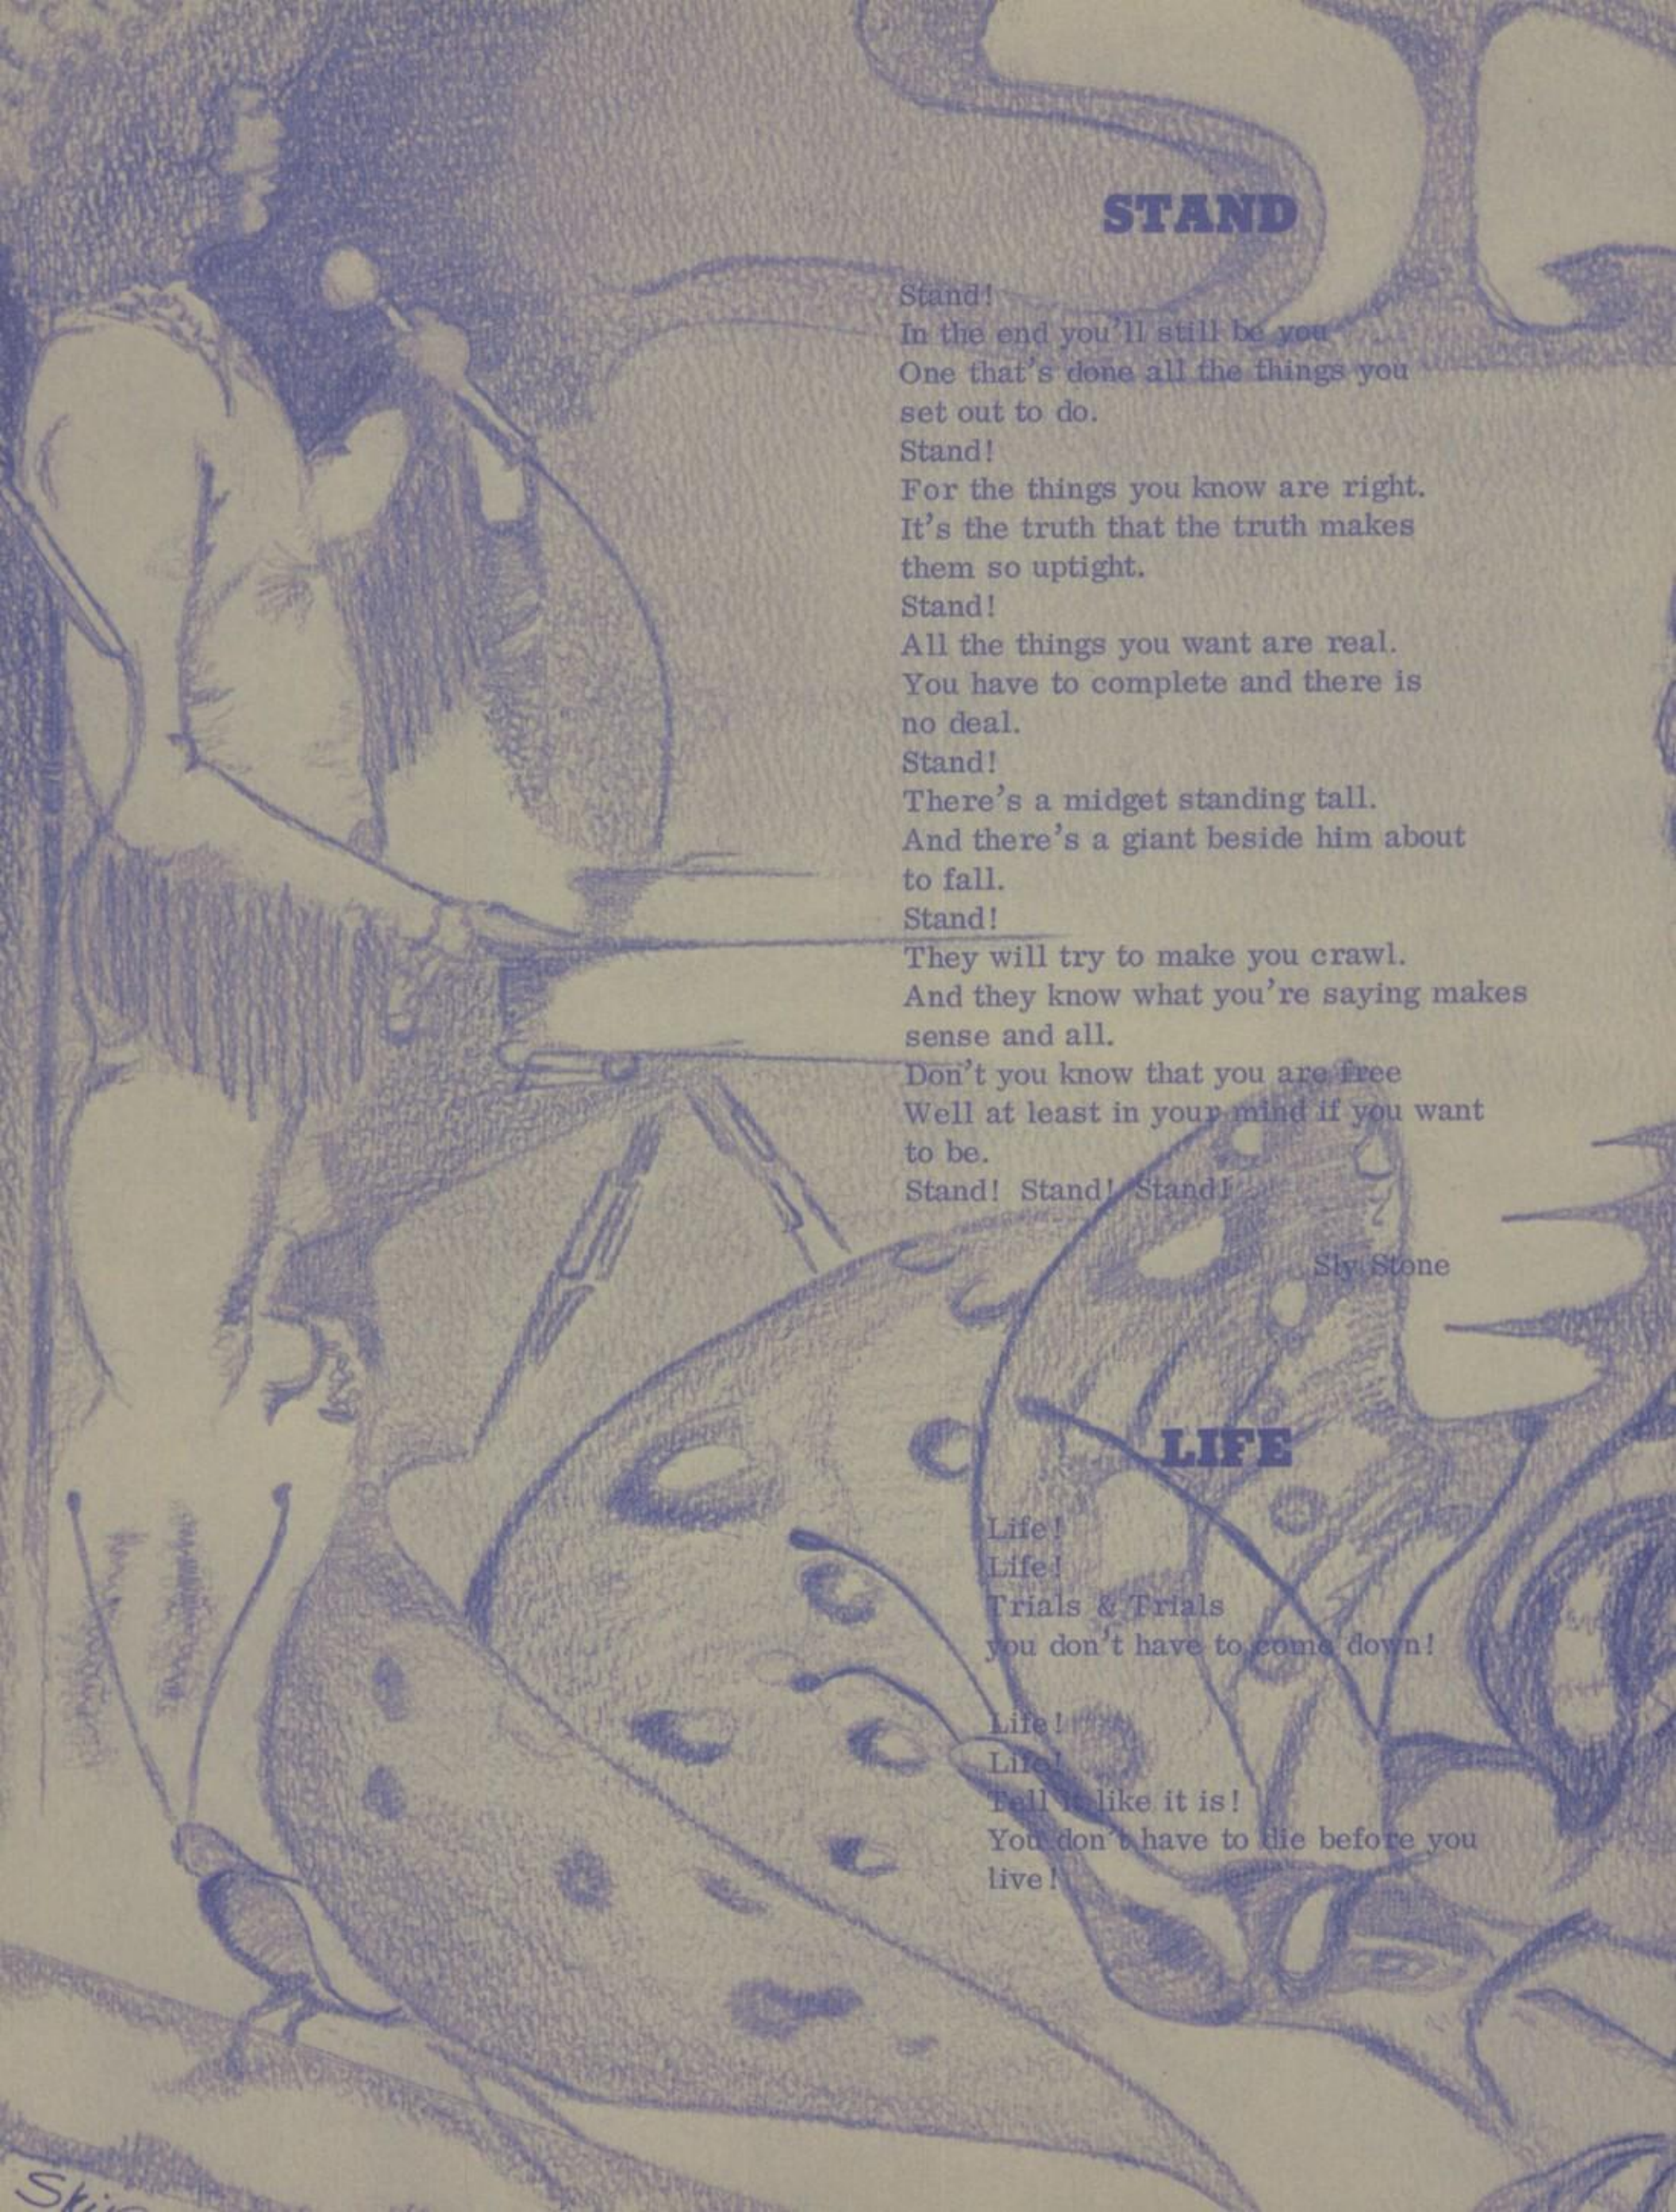
Dear Chip -
You are so very cute & I like you a lot besides that you are the 3rd Rosemary on my all time team!
Love, Barbara

Mrs. Baxter, our school nurse, has been labeled with many names over the course of her years here at Lennox. Some of these are: Mother of children, Mother Earth - Ecology enthusiast, and engineer of Carnivals.

She is known as a person of energy who helps our school in many ways. Just try to remember the hall between her office and the attendance office filled with bottles, cans and various other objects for the ecology drive? A strong influence on all those who come in contact with her through the day - students and staff alike - she gives much time to groups of students as sponsor of class or club, time to individual students who need her help and counsel and support - during school hours and on her own time.

She is stern, cheerful, and she gets results - all for Lennox High and the fortunate students who have come under her influence during her years here.

MRS. BAXTER - WE THE STUDENTS AND FACULTY OF LENNOX HIGH SALUTE YOU AND YOUR WORK!



STAND

Stand!
In the end you'll still be you
One that's done all the things you set out to do.
Stand!
For the things you know are right.
It's the truth that the truth makes them so uptight.
Stand!
All the things you want are real.
You have to complete and there is no deal.
Stand!
There's a midget standing tall.
And there's a giant beside him about to fall.
Stand!
They will try to make you crawl.
And they know what you're saying makes sense and all.
Don't you know that you are free
Well at least in your mind if you want to be.
Stand! Stand! Stand!

FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH

What a field day for the heat.
A thousand people in the street
Singin' songs and carryin' signs
Mostly saying, "Hooray for our side."
It's time we stop, children,
What's that sound?
Everybody look what's goin' down.

THE SOUL OF YOUTH

How ridiculous is everything not achieved with one's own blood and one's own soul— everything not infused with love.

A GOOD FRIENDSHIP

To have a good friend
Is the richest of all things
A friend whom you can tell your troubles
Who can share them with you
A friend who can help you
Make your boredom fly away
A friend who will care for you when You're ill-well,
A friend on whom you can confide
A good friend is something everyone can not have
That's why a good friendship
Is the greatest treasure in the world

"A High Price to Pay"

Grand Prize - Creative Writing

Loving a soldier is not always gay, and loving him is a high price to pay.
It's mostly loving with nothing to hold,
it's being young yet being old.
It's having him whisper his love to you,
it's whispering back that you love him, too.
Then comes a kiss, a promise to love,
knowing you're watched, approved from above.
Reluctantly, painfully letting him go,
while you're dying inside; wanting him so.
Watching him leave with eyes full of tears,
standing alone with hopes, dreams, and fears.
It's sending a letter with a stamp upside down, to a faraway love in a faraway town.
It's going to church, to kneel, and to pray,
and really meaning the things that you say.
And though you know he's far away,
you just keep on loving him more each day.
Being in love will merit your dreams,
with thoughts of Heaven; where love light gleams.
Days go by and no mail for a spell,
you wait for some word to hear that he's well.
Then the letter arrives and you're given a joy,
you're like a small child with a shiny new toy.
With fingers a-tremble and your heart beating fast, as you tear open your letter and read it at last.
Yes, he is well and misses you so,
and filled with the love you wanted to know.
Weeks are a month, months are a year,
you're waiting for the day when you'll have no more fear.
Time passes slowly, yet is gone very fast,
you're barely aware it is here till it's past.
Yes, loving a soldier brings bitterness and tears,
loneliness, sadness, and despondent years.
Loving a soldier, though it isn't much fun,
is well worth the price when the battle is done.
Remember he's thinking of you every day,
he's sad and lonely being away.
So love him, miss him, and try to be bolder,
and always be proud that you're loving a soldier.

THE CRY OF YOUTH

The sparrows fly high above the sky,
I look up sadly and begin to cry.
The wind is wild; the wind is free,
Oh lord, give me freedom and let me be.
The sparrows fly hastily through the trees.
No one knows; no one sees.
Oh, tell me your secret, for I will not tell,
Then there will be no reason to rebel.

I live, and I am Youth.
I desire what I cannot have,
And that which is mine,
By right,
I have shunned.

What I want, I want only to be granted
With a struggle,
Yet I want it now,
and, still,
I cry, because
This part of my time
Is so swiftly passing.

I shout
"Peace"
Yet within me there is war.

I love desperately,
I hate desperately,
Trying to find, I believe,
Something in those whom I love and hate
That will tell me what I am.

So I seek, in those I know,
To discover a part of myself,
Which I have not known.

I am the Soul of Youth,
Newly born,
Emerged,
Thrown into the blinding realities of the world.
I SHALL GROW FOREVER

Dreams Unfulfilled

I sit here and think
  How the world turns around
How hopes and aspirations
  Sink underground.

I think of all the days of life,
  of the people so full of pain and strife
That have failed to fulfill
  Their hopes in life.

I sit here and think
  That a wish and a dream
Could never be the tool
  To link the dreamings of a fool.

I sit here and think
  Of what it would be like
To just once fulfill the hopes,
  And light the darkness
In which man gropes.

The Soul of Youth

Sitting here all alone,
With some tears in my eyes,
Here I sit "safe" at home
All they tell me is a bunch of lies.

How can I find the way,
Through this tangled mess,
When all I see is so gray,
I'm trying to do my best.

They say that I will understand,
They say that I will see,
But how can I understand,
I don't even know what's happening to me.

Was it really so long,
Since they were like me,
They say that I will "belong,"
Damn, like hell they see.

I wish someone would try their best,
I wish that someone would see,
Someone not like the rest,
Someone more like me.

The Trapped in School Lament

So why must we walk when we really want to run?
And why must we sit when we really want to fly?
Should not the body be as free as the soul?
and Should not the soul be allowed to be free?
Should a spirit that cries to be freed, be caged up in iron like a lost butterfly?
  Who's spirit is such that imprisonment saddens him even to death?
If this is the case then is there any man who is fulfilling his own true desire?
Are You?

A NEW MATURITY

Your generation is assuming a new maturity this year as those 18 years and older will vote for the first time. You have caused us to take a critical look at our ecological abuse. And certainly your vitality and enthusiasm add a necessary balance to an otherwise rather glum society. In the years ahead, look back into this yearbook and recapture the optimism you held about rebuilding the world. May it give you renewed energy toward the fulfilling of your dreams and goals.

Hi Chippy Whippy,

I think your the most...
(the "most" of bullshiters)
I like the way you look...
(it makes me laugh)
I'll never forget when you cried after the football game...
(because you steped in shit)
I'm surprised to how fast you run...
(& fart at the same time)
In baseball, your the best stroker...
(you ought to be, you had the most practice)
When you walk in the classroom, everyone stands & takes notice...
(they don't want to get Warts)
In football, I always look for you...
(on your back)
Well to sum things up, I must say you do have a lot of Soul...
(Most niggers do)

LOVE

LA FIESTA de '73

La Fiesta de '73 was first conceived in the Spring of 1971, by the Class of '73 Board of Directors. It was thought that a carnival such as this would be not only a school affair, but something that would involve the whole community of Lennox. In this, the carnival was a tremendous success. Students, parents, and business people of the Lennox Area participated to make La Fiesta de '73 the biggest event in Lennox's History. Over 300 students helped in the planning and the actual operation of the carnival, merchants donated more than 100 prizes, and many parents worked in preparing for the carnival. It is estimated that about 3,000 people were in attendance.

Reason and calm judgment, qualities specially belonging to a leader.

Tacitus

Lennox High School's 15th graduating class will be remembered for many accomplishments and conquests. But perhaps the most vivid memory will be through the "class of 72's" total and complete individuality and non-conformity.

In a world where many molds form the great majority of the people, the class of '72 was a true exception. Whereas classes in the past have been more spirited, this class made up for this deficit with an unprecedented attitude of total individuality which made the class great.

As freshmen, we entered high school with the kind of apprehension which faces all new-coming classes. We were amazed at the changing attitudes of the teachers. No longer were we children, with recesses and room-mothers and light-monitors.

We faced this realization fairly well, and gradually emerged from our shell. The seniors at that time; the class of '69, seemed so much older than ourselves, and graduation seemed a million years away. As we looked upon the differences, both physical and mental, between us and the graduating class, we were stunned.

Our freshman year was one of orientation, also. Many did not know who the principal was. And many, walking the corridors in a state of fear, didn't care to know him.

Items such as lockers, showering for physical education, Lennox High food, the variety and free choice of classes, were taken for granted by the sophomores, juniors, and seniors. But these, like countless other things, were new to us. Somehow, high school seemed to contain a type of glamor, unknown to us in previous years. It was a huge jump from junior high to high school.

Rallies were introduced to us, and although they seemed a bit strange at the time, we actively participated. The freshman year opened the athletic careers of some of the most promising and outstanding athletes ever to walk through the gates of Lancerville.

As sophomores, things somewhat changed. We were no longer low class on the totem pole; we had someone to look down on. But still somehow the gap between the senior class and ours seemed galaxies wide. Generally, we became more socially oriented, participating in more extra-curricular activities. We began to feel that the class of '72 really belonged in high school, and began taking some of our privileges for granted. Many began taking some of the senior privileges for granted also, and became acquainted with the trash cans of Lennox High.

Although it was hardly noticeable at the time, our maturity had grown extensively. We began to notice the different personalities among the faculty at Lennox - most noticeably G. Smith, Jack Vedder, and R. Dunn. We began to form our true opinions about high school, and also about other things. Many fell into groups, clubs, and cliques at this time. The opposite sex became a bigger part of our lives during this year.

The following year, we made a big hurdle, and vaulted over the sophomore-junior barrier. We became juniors, and for many, this was the best time. Many started driving. We were not reminiscing and longing for the return of the past, as the class ahead of us, and we were not afraid of the future, as the classes behind us. We began to show our true colors, exercising a distinct attitude of individuality and unmatched thinking. Many experienced their first junior senior prom, which was the first true formal event for many. We watched the class of '71 elect the first female president, Miss Verle Lawson. Perhaps this event was an omen of the changes in tradition which would take place at Lennox High in the following year.

Over the summer preceding our senior year, the train to thought chugged determinedly and wonderingly through the tracks on our minds.

Initially, we were forced with the realization of a great task which lay ahead of us, even further ahead than our senior year. We were confronted with the fact that after our senior year, there would be no more warm teachers and no adults at school who would genuinely care. It was an awfully big hurdle.

We started out the year with a feeling of expectation. Here it was; the end of the road. The last, golden year in high school. The year which would, in future years, sparkle most brightly in our memories.

Miss Sharon Peretz, Lennox's second lady ASB president was our first leader of 1972, our graduating year. Miss Sandi Blalock, an exuberant, determined leader, took rigid control of the seniors as class president. She was forceful at times, firm but fair; these characteristics made her an excellent leader. She was elected second semester, running unopposed.

Our class was called "apathetic." Apathy is a harsh word, and its meaning spans a wide horizon. Webster's dictionary calls apathy, "Lack of passion, emotion or feeling."

But no one can say that the class of '72 did not demonstrate passsion; they took part in successfully beautifying our campus with charitable contribution, and made other changes which demonstrated true concern.

And it cannot be said that Lennox's seniors displayed a lack of emotion or feeling toward the school. One keen example of this is the area of athletics. Composed mainly of seniors, Lennox's football team was the greatest ever to wear the Lancer colors, the first grid team to go to CIF. Varsity basketball came along, and although the cagers didn't enjoy good success, four of the five starters on the team were seniors. Baseball was certainly no exception; 14 of the 15 squad members were twelfth graders.

So, although the class of '72 didn't demonstrate its school spirit in the normally accepted fashion, and although it was sometimes buried beneath the individuality, the spirit was there.

But, somehow the spirit which was shown seemed far more meaningful, far more sincere and concrete than the sometimes dogmatic and seemingly phony spirit boasted by other classes.

Our class was criticized for destroying rally competition by its lack of participation. We were knocked because we felt that Lennox High School should come together as one, rather than be divided by four. But, the class stood by its principals, constantly coming under fire by teachers, students, and administrators.

The class of '72 has come a long way since that first hectic year. We've transformed from children, fresh from junior high school, to young adults who now face the newly given responsibility of voting.

Decisions had to be made then, when we entered high school. Decisions have to be made now, that we are leaving high school. And with each choice we make and each decision we render, we find that the results of these choices are of progressively greater importance and consequence.

We find that certain goals which we had set earlier are unattainable, and others which seemed hopeless are now within our grasp.

And we begin to see where we, as tiny but separate pieces, fit in the wondrous jigsaw puzzle of life.

We find that what we have learned and experienced in high school cannot be inserted between two book covers, nor be written on any blackboard. No poet can put into words all that we have experienced, overcome and learned. No professor, no matter how fine a mind, could ever deliver a lecture on the experiences we have encountered in our high school careers.

And years from now, our life patterns will have been firmly established, and some of our goals and ambitions will have been realized. Some of our expectations will have dissolved into a sea of futility. But we will look back on our school days with fondness. And we will remember.

The class of '72 will go into the world, and they will be noticed. Their presence will be felt. The aftershocks of their actions will be numerous and felt around the world.

Memories and ideas which were converted into action by the class of '72 will remain etched in the structure of Lennox High for as long as the school will stand. For, like all previous classes, we represented erosion upon the big mountain of Lennox High School. And although the form which we left embedded may vary, it will never completely disappear.

1971-72 A Bright Year

A MOMENT OF TENSION

Carole and Jim were our Knight and Lady for the year of 1971-72. They fulfilled their duties to the fullest and have demonstarted fine school spirit by attending all games. They are truly one of the most active Knight and Lady's we at Lennox have ever had.

Coach* Dan Karella

The 1972 varsity baseball team began the season as a squad of unlimited potential. Potential, however, must be transformed into performance in order for success to be achieved. The team succumbed to variety of obstacles as they dropped their opening two games to Palm Springs High. Their pride, determination, and fierce will then began to assert itself. Practicing, thinking, and playing like a team, the squad moved to five victories in their next six games. Winning in the tough Pioneer League was an awesome athletic challenge. "When the going is tough, the tough gets going," fired by senior power, the 1972 team got going, and then some!

It's very far away
It takes about a half a day to get there--if we travel
by dragonfly.

No it's not in Spain!
But all the same, it's a groovy name and the winds just right.

Hang on my darling
Hang on if you wannago just a little bit of Spanish Castle magic

The clouds are really low
And they over flow with cotton candy.
and battle grounds of red and brown,
No! It's all in your mind don't float your little mind on bad things
Just float your little mind.

"Precious are Moments" was the theme of our 1972 Prom. It was held at the Biltmore Hotel in the Bowl Room. It took place on April 14, 1972 at 7:30-12:00. The main dish was Roast Capon.

PATRICA McDERMOTT

What I think of
Lennox High School

My first steps from the airplane to L.A. International Airport brought me in contact with Lennox High. I was warmly welcomed then, and everyone has continued to extend friendship towards me. This small community has opened its doors to me and to the AFS program a symbol of personal relationships and international understanding.

CLUBS OF THE YEAR

This year the Troubadour Staff has selected each and every club as "Club of the Year," for its spirit and support. During football season the clubs showed that they cared, but when "La Fiesta de '73" rolled around, wow!! The co-operation was fantastic. Never before in the history of Lennox High was there so much involvement.

Congratulations Clubs.

The Troubadour Staff

FBLA

F.B.L.A. stands for Future Business Leaders of America. This organization tries to produce a business atmosphere and background to help enrich the business education program in our school.

CLUBS OF THE YEAR

Cinema Club

The Cinema Club is new to Lennox this year. The help of Mr. De La Rocha and Mr. Karella made the club a big success. They showed a series of films and also had a film festival at the end of the year.

Skip Silverwood, Don Milburn, George Manos, and Mr. De La Rocha; sponsor.

Surfing Club

Clubs of

Art Club

The Art Media Club is one of the more voluntary clubs. When the first and only Student-Teacher Advisory Committee met, the majority was the Art Club. At other club meetings and outside organizations the Art Club always showed up. With the help, patience, and encouragement of one of the busiest teachers on campus the Art Club has remained as one.

The Year

C.S.F.

C.S.F. stands for California Scholarship Federation. The purpose of C.S.F. is to foster high standards of scholarship, service, and citizenship on the part of the students. Its sponsor is Mrs. Brierly.

The purpose of the Lettermen's Club is to promote team and school spirit among athletes. Members of the club act at assemblies, and also serve as waiters and ushers at G.A.A. banquets and other events.

Lettermen's Club

Clubs of

Thespians

The Thespian Club, Troup 1994, is one of the more active clubs at Lennox. They made Lennox High the first high school in the U.S. to put on "You're A Good Man, Charley Brown." Among other plays put on by Lennox's drama club were: "Summertree," "The Brick and the Rose," and "Charlie's Aunt." The sponsor was Mr. Bruce Hertford.

the Year

Pep Club

Pep Club is designed to stimulate school spirit. The purpose of the club is to forward friendship among the Pioneer League schools; to stimulate school spirit, loyalty, and sportsmanship; and to sponsor pep rallies.

The purpose of the International Club is to help the new students get acquainted. This was another new organization this year, with Mr. Helpin's help.

International Club

Clubs of

Ecology Club

Mrs. Jeanette Baugh is the sponsor of this worthwhile club. It just began last year and through its hard work it got "Club of the Year" last year. The biggest day, for the Ecology Club, was Earth Day. On that day there was an outside assembly.

Ecology - Now!

The flowers are wilted
The birds are asleep
The Earth is much colder
And nothing can keep.

The oceans are not roaring
Remembrance of our past
T.V.'s are not running
No lines are being cast.

The bees are not humming
The rivers ran dry
The Earth has stopped turning
And quietly we lie.

These are our futures
If nothing is done
To save our creations
The Earth must be cleaned-up,
At once!

Violet Forgacs, 12th

ECOLOGY

We have come to the end.
All because of them.
The cars on the highway
the planes in the sky
the wars and the weapons
We soon are to die!
The air is not clean
Nor the oceans bluegreen
The heavens are gray;
(smog turned them that way).
The beaches are black from their coating of tar
The seagulls and sealife are living no more.
Had we done something sooner we might could survive
By destroying the elements we ended our lives
Now the end is inevitable
the question is when?
That's what you get Man
for living in sin.
You've invented a new word:
The science of survival.
The word is ecology,
the meaning: impossible.
So prepare now to die all you creatures of earth
For life is worth nothing as it was before birth.

the Year

Chess Club

The Chess Club didn't start until the middle of the first semester, but when they did start it was a good start. They have represented Lennox in many chess tournaments.

The Beautification Committee of Lennox High is the group responsible for deciding what will improve the appearance of our school and for making the purchases. This year the committee, under the leadership of Mr. Allan Stein with Mrs. Jeanette Baugh, bought special planter boxes and benches. Active committee members are: Darrell Dennis, Frances King, Jim Gervais, Rick Hernandez, Anna Marie Heitman, and Starlyn Lincoln.

Red Cross Club

Another new club this year was the Red Cross Club. They have as a purpose the desire to help others to a better life. They attended dances at the Foundation for the Junior Blind, they filled Christmas stockings for underprivileged children, and they raised money for the CHIN-UP Project, which stands for the Children Help International Needs--Universal Plea. This club promises to be one of our busiest clubs in the community.

C.A.A. In Action

This year Student Government and ASB has tried with some success to make Lennox a better school to remember. Our first semester ASB president, Sharon Perez we will certainly long remember with pride and thanks. She has done much for the school which some take for granted. She was the second girl ever to be elected to be President, and it will be safe to say that girls can do a good job if they try. So Sharon, we thank-you for what you have accomplished this year.

BUSTED!

CARLOS MORENO

Our Spring Semester President, Carlos Moreno, has been an active member in Student Council. He also participated in four years of Football, Baseball and Basketball.

He has the fine advantage of being able to speak Spanish, which helps tremendously for our many Cuban Students who attend Lennox.

The Troubadour Staff of 1971 - 1972 congratulates Carlos and thanks him for his hard work.

Chip,
It was pears, apples
and peaches plums
and the rose had a different name
if tigers were bears and fingers were thumbs. I'd love
you just the same.

well break, I really don't have any nice to say to ya. But I'm shocked you made it all the way through school. You and that your a crackpot - up & that your a crackpot - up & it's indescribably dilluvian & that your indescribably dilluvian & it's just beyond me how you got not (mutasubpoena) beyond me how you got like (mutasubpoena) your head up your Joe - what are you, besides cruel, Philosopher you are also cruel, but you know a lot about a lot of things, I think you should take your head out of its groove!! as long as its in there it is a groove & accept your head as it is. I do bad & accept your head as it is. I do ask you are now & then. Now there's just one thing I ask

To Chip,
You're one hell of a
guy. I wish looks and personality and sexappeal enough to another o person. Stay
as you are.
I love you
that way.
Good luck
the future.
always,

Ob yeu / cause I do wanna be friends & I do wish you would be a little pinch with me! Cause believe me it hurts when you mean

I think you can understand that. Even though the past is gone I still consider you my good buddy & I get upset when you act a brat. So just one more thing if you want to be a brat go ahead, but I'm sick of takin the shit & treatin you nice when you like that. So I don't think you don't want to sup- port our friends. But just keep it up & you will be miss me! love you me.
